MINE OPERATIONS TO START THIS SUMMER

Work of Constructing New Charleroi Tipple Well Under Way

BEING BUILT OF STEEL

Grade Into Heart of Coal Will be Easy--Tipple Will Not Slope at All

With good fortune another two months should see the beginning of actual operations of the Charleroi mine of the Carnegie Coal company. The work of building the tipple has gotten under way and it is expected it will be finished within four weeks. The new mine opening has been driven approximately 450 feet of the 800 feet to go.

All the tipple work will be of steel. It will be built 54 feet above the railroad tracks. Though the tipple will be built for railroad shipping accommodations, arrangements will be made so that river shipments of coal can be made. This will be accomplished simply by raising the present river tipple a number of feet.

The new tipple will contain four tracks two for loads in the center and two for entry cars on the outside. The tipple length will be approximately 400 feet long and will contain about 640 tons of steel. The John Eickel, Jr. company, has the contract for the steel work, the Dravo Construction company for the concrete foundation and the driving of the opening and another Pittsburg company the contract for the pile driving. Elmer Struble is the man directly in charge of the steel construction and George Claypool is the superintendent generally looking after this particular. George Schelcross is the chief engineer. George W. Wilkes is looking after the grading and filling as an employee of the company. When the mine is opened he will become mine foreman, a place he held with the Charleroi Coal company.

A very easy grade will be provided at the new mine. There will be no slant of the tipple at all as the grade to be inside the mine. From the opening there will be a slope of 2.6 per cent downward for a short distance and then the slope will change to one per cent. The old coal tipple used by the Charleroi mine had a slope of 16 per cent.

One new feature in connection with the operation of the mine is that the motors used will be run out on the tipple. Two 15-ton tandem motors have already been ordered and will arrive in good season. The new opening through which they will have to pass will be 10 feet wide and 7 1-2 feet high.

The second euchre of the series was held last evening by the L. C. B. A. in P. H. C. hall. There was a nice attendance. Favors were awarded to Mrs. Jas. O'Hern, Mrs. Daniel Shields, Misses P. Conley and John Coyne. Announcement of the next euchre will be made in Monday evening's Mail.

Rev. B. N. Axmacher is in Pittsburg today.

Not Used at Vesta Mine

Electricity for Motive Power for Drillers is Done Away With at No. 5

The mine of the Vesta Coal Company at Fredericktown will when all changes have been made be operated compressed at 100 feet of electricity. Already these changes are under way, and even now open lights have been done away with. The miners are using a German electric lamp for their personal use, and which are provided by the company. These lamps are provided with a storage battery, which gives sufficient current to provide a light while the miner is at work. In this way open lights are obviated. As all mines in the upper pools are being operated by shafts, it is necessary to take greater precautions than in drift mines.

RAILROAD MEN WILL BANQUET

Second Annual Meeting of Veterans to be Held Here

OFFICIALS ARE COMING

Arrangements are being made for the second annual banquet of the Monongahela division, Veterans Employees Association of the Pennsylvania Railroad to be held at Turner Hall, Charleroi on Thursday, June 12. Invitations for the event have been issued.

The banquet will bring together between 100 and 150 railroad men who have been in service on the Monongahela division for 21 years or longer. This will include the pensioned employees. Also it will be the means of bringing some of the highest officials of the Pittsburg office here. A. G. Mitchell, superintendent of the Monongahela division will attend, and it is likely that R. L. O'Donnell, general superintendent, of Pittsburg will come. The first annual banquet of the association was held at the Seventh Avenue hotel at Pittsburg last year. It was so great a success that it was decided to hold a similar event this and succeeding years.

For the affair next week a special train will leave Pittsburg at 4:30 o'clock carrying those from the north end of the division. The train will arrive in Charleroi at about 6 o'clock and the banquet will be at 6:45.

Business Men's Meeting. The Charleroi Business Men's Association will meet at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the Business Men's rooms, to take up business of importance.

Miss Bessie Bake of Speers has been re-elected a teacher in the Speers school.

BORROWS HORSE NOT HIS OWN; GOOD JOKE

John Milanovitch Used to be a Calvaryman and Just for Fun Makes Away With Dash-irg Steed--Not So Funny Now

His idea of humor as expressed by getting on a horse that was not his and riding wildly down McKean avenue came near getting John Milanovitch into a lot of trouble Wednesday afternoon. Had it not been that the horse possessed an intelligence all its own and objected to being guided in another direction than home John today might be facing the charge of horse-stealing under serious circumstances. As it is he will probably be let go on a disorderly charge. The horse was the property of Constable George Stabilein. It was standing in front of a harness store on McKean avenue, when John sauntered along. The animal was tethered but had no saddle on its back. According to John's tale there were some boys standing by, and when he stopped to look at the horse, they taunted him by telling him he couldn't ride.

Now John used to be a calvaryman in the old country, it seems, and has a military record that he is rather proud of. To have boys taunt him like that was not for John, so just for the fun of the thing, as he afterward related, he leaped on the horse and pulled away.

Down McKean avenue he wildly rode and on to North Charleroi. At North Charleroi John came to the realization that the horse was no army steed. In other words it showed plainly an inclination to return whence it had come and not only that but absolutely insisted upon coming back.

The result of the whole affair was that John was met at Eleventh street by the police in their auto patrol and he got another free ride. He spent the night under surveillance. Disposition of his case will probably be made sometime today.

EASTERN STAR DANCE POPULAR

Many Attend Private Hop at Eldora--"Charl-Mon" Club Dance Tonight

What it is believed will prove one of the most successful dances of the season was held at Eldora Park Wednesday evening by the Eastern Star Order of the Eastern Star. Couples were present from Monessen, Charleroi, Donora, Monongahela, and numerous other places along the Monongahela valley. Many even came from distant interior points. The dance was the first private dance of the season.

On Thursday night of this week the "Char-Mon" club, composed of Charleroi and Monessen young men will give a dance. This will be their first dance and it is believed it will be largely attended.

OPENS UP NEW MEAT MARKET ON MCKEAN AVENUE

Convenience and sanitation are two things that James Gelder, the well known meat man, kept chiefly in mind when he made preparations for opening his new market at 413 McKean avenue this week. The opening was an event of today and the way in which Mr. Gelder carried out his up-to-date ideas is apparent by a mere glance within the attractive interior. Mr. Gelder has so located his equipment, including the large refrigerators so that everything will be in the handiest place. A new feature will be that he will be able to bring in his meat and other products from the rear of the store.

The interior color scheme, if a meat market can be spoken of as having a color scheme is white. Beautiful marble counters add to the general beauty. Mr. Gelder intends to conduct his meat market on up-to-date principles and will have only the best in meats to be had.

Miss Margaret Laird left this morning for Ford City.

COMPLAINS OF LAW VIOLATION

"Citizen" Says There Are Too Many Loose Characters Roaming Valley

To the Editor of the Charleroi Mail: Sir--Only a fortnight or more ago everybody was astounded by the crimes against morality that were committed across the river, and which finally ended in murder. On this particular occasion the state constabulary showed its efficiency in capturing one of the culprits. Since then all people of that character have left there temporarily and located in the immediate vicinity of Charleroi. Among them are many ex-convicts, who are doing a flourishing business in pandering. Hold-ups, which occur outside the borough where the local police have no control, are quite numerous, and the constables of the adjoining townships are not giving these matters any attention.

This is a place for the state constabulary to get busy and make their camping grounds about the creek, where many of these lawless characters rendezvous. So let the citizens take action and request the state constabulary to drive these known thugs and low down characters from this locality. This is a matter in which all law-abiding citizens should co-operate.

A CITIZEN.

TALKING MOVING PICTURES SHOWN FOR FIRST TIME

For the first time in Charleroi the new talking moving pictures are being shown. This is at the river where the Markell show boat, "Golden Rod" is appearing. We in day night a large crowd was on hands for the first boat show. The boat is still remaining here for tonight, before going to Monessen.

A feature Wednesday and a feature today was the band concert that was given near the noon hour on the

TROUBLE LOOKED FOR OVER LABOR MEASURES

Anniversary Of Big Frost

Fifty-Four Years Ago Wednesday Night Crops Were Blackened and Destroyed

Old-timers recall the anniversary of the "big frost" which occurred 54 years ago Wednesday night. On the night of June 1, 1859 occurred the heaviest frost ever known at this season of the year. The temperature dropped so low that people wore overcoats and lighted fires in their houses. On the morning of June 5 a big bit of vegetation was killed and blackened by the frost. Everything in the way of crops that was raised that year was from replanting after June 5.

Something good at the Star Theatre tonight.

RIVER TRADE ACTIVE

Coal Shipments Down Monongahela Heavy During May

ONE LOCK CLOSED DOWN

In spite of the fact that one of the locks at Lock No. 4 was closed during the month of May the coal trade through that point was scarcely lessened. Together with the coal other shipment kept up well.

The total amount of coal passing through the lock was 15,923,000 bushels. This was about two millions less than for the month of April this year and the month of May last year, which were exceptionally good months.

The sand and gravel trade remained comparatively strong. Of sand there was locked 18,000 bushels and of gravel 48,000 bushels.

Lockages down stream numbered 567 and up stream 555. Down stream traffic consisted of 249 steamers and 1,297 boats, barges and flats. Up stream the traffic was 248 steamers and 1,327 boats, barges and flats.

principal streets. Markell's have one of the finest bands that ever appeared here with a river show or any other kind of show and their renditions, including a program of not only popular music, but classical, was very pleasing. In addition to the talking moving pictures a program of vaudeville of more than usual excellence is given.

Senate and House Expected to Disagree on Provisions.

AMENDMENTS INSERTED

Controversy Most Probable Result--Near Few Weeks of Session to be Strenuous

Harrisburg, June 5--With the action of the senate on the labor and election bills is likely to be precipitated the most bitter fight of the session. By changing the character of these bills entirely by amendment, the senate and the house are not likely to agree, and a long and bitter deadlock is indicated, with rumors already afloat that an extra session may be called by the governor in an effort to finally pass some of the measures that he advocates. Among these is the workmen's compensation law, which has been so amended in the senate as to make it practically inoperative.

Another of the bills that has been changed by amendments in the senate that will provoke a bitter fight is the child labor bill. As passed by the house this bill provided for eight hours a day for children under 16 years with a minimum of 48 hours a week, and did not permit boys of that age to work nights. It has been amended to permit children to work 10 hours a day with a minimum of 54 hours a week, and to also permit boys in the glass working trades to work nights. It is doubtful if the bill will get through the house unless some radical compromises are made.

So much bitterness is manifested on the part of organized labor over the emasculation of the workmen's compensation bill, which makes the provisions elective, that threats of a state wide strike are freely made if Governor Tener's measure, as presented, is not passed. President Maurer of the State Federation of Labor is canvassing the executive boards of the United Mine Workers of the anthracite and bituminous coal fields, and if these boards decide to strike if the act is not passed as introduced, a general strike will be called, he stated.

Regarding the charges asking for the impeachment of Judge Umbel of Fayette county, the committee namely Speaker-After met and organized and will meet at Uniontown June 12 to investigate the charges. This proceeding is expected to be long drawn out and to be continued into the next session of the legislature.

FUNERAL OF ROBERT GATES TO BE HELD FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The funeral of Robert Gates aged 20 the Dunlevy young man who was killed by a fall of slate at the Tremont mine Wednesday morning will be held from the Dunlevy United Brethren church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The body will be taken to Monongahela for interment in the Monongahela cemetery.

COMPETING TRAFFIC.

Kansas City, one of the progressive cities of the west, is solving the transportation problem by the formation of steamboat line between
that city and St. Louis. The business people were having trouble with
the railroad companies concerning freight rates and service, and they
promoted and are developing the river
traffic line. By this means they expect to save twenty per cent in traffic rates on much of the merchandise
that is shipped from the wholesalers
of St. Louis to Kansas City.

This is the opportunity that has long been open to the merchants of the Monongahela valley—competing river traffic. A big saving in rates

on much of the merchandise shipped to Charleroi from Pittsburgh could be effected if the merchants would develop the river traffic that the government has spent millions of dollars to install. As it is the big interests are reaping all the benefit of the cheap river transportation, and they are not using this advantage for the people who pay for cheapening their products. Why should the government continue to spend millions of dollars in rebuilding the locks along
the river when all the benefit they confer is on the coal companies who still base their selling prices on railroad shipping rates? Some progressive action among the merchants
would result in lower freight rates
from Pittsburgh to all of the river points.

another achievement and a triumph to the credit of Governor Tene. Says
the Harrisburg Telegraph

his insistence that carried the bill

Professor John Price Jackson, who has been chosen by the governor to head the new department, is one of the best selections that could possibly have been made. Professor Jackson stands high in educational circles, having made a record for himself at State College. He has devoted a great deal of time to the study of industrial affairs and there are few men in Pennsylvania so well qualified to blaze a trail for the department.

"A great deal will depend upon his management, of course and we are confident that he will make the most of his splendid opportunities."

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Lots of good advice is being published in the papers just now, in the sports of the school commencement exercises," remarked a citizen
this morning, "but here are a few suggestions that I clipped from a magazine some time ago which I believe every young man should paste in his note. They have been developed in the school of hard knocks, and are eminently practical. Here they are:

It Never Pays
To cheat on a small scale;
Resist arrest;
Rock the boat;
Curse the cook;
Damn the actors;
Shoot at the star;
Lay progressive bigamy;
With cats;
Lay with the court;
Lay with the U. S. Mail;
Slander;
Chew the rag;
Pick against dynamite;
Shoot up the town;
Shoot the wrong man in the right place;

Postpone or delay no-wait work;
Stand ye there idle;
Fall under the cars;
Down stairs;
In the creek;
Disregard decency;
Gloat in immoralities;
Ridicule infirmity;
Disturb the congregation.

It is related that at a girls' seminary over at Greensburg the other day the principal was propounding some ethical questions to the graduating class, which were not down in the technical course.

"What's the best preparation for entering the state of matrimony?"
she asked.

"A little courting, ma'am," was the reply of a plain looking girl.

"The other day I called on my doctor, and asked his advice about a little indisposition I had," said a young man from a nearby town last evening. "He made me show my tongue, and it cost me two dollars.
But I got even with him, all right.
"How was that?" he was asked.
"Well, the next night we had a little poker game, and I made the doctor show his hand, and it cost him
five dollars."

Keen-witted George Ade Will Write Exclusively for The Dispatch

An announcement that will appeal wonderfully to its ever-widening circle of readers in this community has just been made by The Pittsburgh Dispatch, to the effect that the world-renowned George Ade, master hand at the art of fable making, will write exclusively for that popular journal.
"Newest Fables in Slang," the title of the very latest from the Ade factory for sprightly humor of pith and point, will begin appearing in The Sunday Dispatch next Sunday, June 8 and thereafter for many weeks.

The famous George opens his big series with "The New Fable of the Speedy Sprite," one of the best he ever produced.

"One Monday morning a rangy and well-conditioned Elfin of the Young Unmarried Set, Yelet Loretta, emerged into the Sunlight and hit the Thus this Newest Fable starts. Its finish is a delight. You must get it

PROUD OF HIS SELF-CONTROL

Mrs. Brown Could Agree With Her
Liege Lord, Too, That It Was Something Uncommon.

Mr. Brown was excitable by nature,
but he often prided himself audibly
upon his self-control. One night while
the family were gathered at the tea
table the chimney began to roar; the furnace draft had been opened and forgotten. Straightway a panic ensued.
"Don't lose your heads—keep cool!"
cried Mr. Brown. "It's nothing serious."

He dashed up the stairs, discovered
that the metal cap over the only unused stovepipe hole was already red
hot, and dashed down again faster
than he went up.

"Keep cool!" he gasped, as he passed through the room where the family had gathered in nervous apprehension. "I'll be back in a minute."

He was back in less than that time,
having observed that the flames were spouting several feet high from the
chimney, and that a shower of sparks
was falling upon the roof.

"Where's the step-ladder?" he panted.

He was gone before anyone could
answer the question, and presently
was heard bellowing from the roof of the woodshed. He presented an heroic
chimney.

"I've got one end of the hose!" he called. "Some one attach the other end and turn on the water—quick!"

Two long minutes passed.

"Why doesn't some one do as I ordered?" he thundered. "Do you want
the place to burn up?"

"We can't, Henry!" called Mrs.
Brown, tremblingly. "You haven't got the hose—you've got the cow-ropes. It was hanging next to the hose in the shed. And anyway, the roof is covered with ice, and I don't think there's any great danger outside. You'd better go and watch the chimney from the inside."

A half-hour later the family were again at the tea table.

"If this had happened in some homes," remarked Mr. Brown, "the family would have lost their heads completely and sent in an alarm. Self-control is an excellent thing—and far from common."

"Indeed it is!" agreed Mrs. Brown, emphatically.—Youth's Companion.

BASEBALL FOR THE FARMER

Possibly the Game Might Be of Benefit to Him, But It is Hardly Indispensable.

Baseball never has been regarded exclusively as a city product. While it is true that the cities supply the enormous crowds that support the big leagues, it is equally true that many of the players in those leagues are graduates of the "bush" leagues. The country boy has an equal chance with the city boy to win the high honors and generous emoluments of a successful ball player. The farmer himself has not come directly in touch with the national game, perhaps, except on a rare holiday. A professor in the Kansas State Agricultural college calls this a mistake. Familiarly with the game, he believes, would promote success in agriculture. If the farmer would play ball "it would take the shamble out of his walk" and "make him decide quickly." This is an interesting theory, but it will not be universally accepted. Some will contend that the motor car has already taken the "shamble" out of the farmer's walk. Others will insist that handling a high spirited horse or pitching
a load of hay on a wagon while a thunderstorm is gathering is just as valuable in training his mental faculties to quick action.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Rose Culture in Bulgaria.

White and red roses are grown, the former being easier to cultivate, but giving only about half as much oil of an inferior quality. The individual growers distill their own oil. Twelve to fifteen kilos of roses are distilled with 60 kilos of water until 12 kilos of distillate are obtained; eight to ten such lots are then united, and redistilled into long necked flasks, in which the oil separates on standing.
To produce one kilo of oil requires 2,000 kilos of roses of 1,200,000 flowers. The roses are gathered in the early morning and distilled the same day. The pure oil from the various districts shows variations in odor and physical properties, and is therefore skillfully blended by the distributing houses before sale. Adulteration is very largely carried on by the peasants, who use ginger grass oil, palma rosa oil, geranium oil, etc. The production for 1910 was 3,145 kilos.—The Pharmaceutical Era.

We Are Creatures of Habit.

There was no rush at the moment and the ticket chopper had time to talk to the man waiting for a friend in a subway station. "Yes, we see lots of queer people here," he said,
"and we have nearly the same people every day and at the same hour. I know men who do not vary a minute in a week in their reaching the ticket box. The queerest man we have at this station we call 'the whistler.'
Every morning at 7:20 he drops his ticket in the box and he always whistles. That wouldn't be so funny, but for years it has always been the same tune. We all know the tune, but no one knows the song. His ticket goes in the box at the same note every morning, and then he walks to the third post, opens his paper and whistles till the train comes."

Made His Blessing Retroactive.

The father of a family who had been striving to bring up his children in the way they should go was very much annoyed at his son's uncouth habit of helping himself to a few bites before grace had been said. The stereotyped form called for: "A blessing on what we are about to eat," but one occasion being particularly exasperating, he astonished the young man by adding to his petition, "and on that which has already been eaten."

Fully Explained.

Every now and again some individual arises to tell us Why We Are, and What We Are, and How We Are. Know Why We Are, and How We Are. What We Know, and What We Would Be if We Weren't, and What, Precisely, Areness Is, also Wereness, and Why We Aren't What We Mightn't Have Been if We Weren't, and other simple and entrancing facts. Such an individual is called a philosopher. —Bulletin, Sidney.

Will Destroy Moths.

It is said that the following will destroy moths, eggs and larvae in a closet: Place a brick on the floor of the closet and on this a tin or iron pan. Heat a brick until it becomes very hot and then put it in the pan. Pour hot, strong vinegar on this brick, then close the door and keep it closed for 24 hours. The steam from the vinegar will kill any live thing that may be in the closet.

Little Doubt About It.

Married a month, a young man told the magistrate that his wife had done the following things: Torn up the marriage certificate, pawned the ring, torn up her wedding dress, assaulted him. She followed him to court, he added, but he managed to dodge her. The Clerk: "You took her for better or worse, and you seem to have got the worse."

Specialists Recommend Yawning.

In the opinion of learned specialists no one can be healthy unless he or she does a certain amount of yawning. When you yawn you expel from the lungs a lot of superfluous air; the breathing muscles of both the chest and the throat are strengthened by yawning.

His Fear.

"Weren't you afraid to go downstairs in the dark last night?" asked a woman of her little son recently. "Yes, I was a little afraid," answered the boy. "But what were you afraid of?" asked the mother. "H'm," said the boy, "I was afraid there wouldn't be any doughnuts."

To Preserve Home of George Fox.

Swarthmoor hall, near Ulverston, Lancashire (Eng.) formerly the home of George Fox, founder of the Society of Friends, was bought at Ulverston, a short time ago, on behalf of the English members of the society for £3,250. His writing desk was bought for 25 guineas.

The Merry Advertiser.

Who says there is no more any genuine English humor? A provision dealer in Earl's court neighborhood, London, displays this on a window sign: "When visiting Shakespeare's England, eat England's Bacon."

And So It Goes in Life.

"A girl," remarks Mack Cretcher, "must have dolls and ribbons and lots of fancy things to play with. A boy can have a pretty good time with nothing but a toad, a grasshopper and a few angle worms."

Perhaps a Tragic Comedy.

A writer once said that the world is a comedy to those who think, a tragedy to those who feel. He doesn't say what it is to the fellow who tries to take a wide garbage can through a narrow alleyway.—Satire.

For Tired Feet.

When your feet ache, caused by long standing, exercise them by rising first to the toes, then on the heels, in a rocking motion for a few times. This was advised by a specialist.—Woman's Home Companion.

Man's Eating.

One man likes to be made a fuss over, another likes to be let alone and a third likes his mind diverted. But in all cases have something good for him to eat, whatever kind he is.

Easy.

Young Widow—"Did you have any trouble getting Jack to propose?" Girl Friend—"No, dear; I told him you were after him."—Boston Transcript.

Daily Thought.

One principal point of good breeding is to suit our behavior to the three several degrees of men—our superiors, our equals and those below us.—Swift.

Difference.

The only difference between a caprice and a life-long passion is that the caprice lasts a little longer.—The Tatler.

Producing Optimism.

A very good remedy for anybody's pessimism is being able to pay his bills.—New York Press.

GOOD OLD AMERICAN NAMES.

"Monsters" Seen in News of Day indicate New York is Our Foremost European Capital.

In the news of one day in New York we find that a man by the name of Isidore Steinberg pleaded guilty to bigamy in the court of a judge named Rosalsky; that a youth named Tumoshesky was drowned; a man named Blau was convicted of keeping disorderly resort; a girl named Anna Cleone was a principal witness in a murder case; a Madame Le Compté figured in domestic sensation; a certain Miss Zella brought a breach of promise case; a Governor named Sulzer sent a message to the legislature; Hannes Kolehmainen was the star of a footrace; another runner named Abel Kiviat made a fast trial spin; and a Mr. Max Hochstetler figured in a hotel scandal.

The names of Klonz, Remitz, Brosi, Gaw, Levi, Harberg, Golla, Schenkel, Stovell, Meniak, Daldorf, Jensen, Yohanan, Stappers, Lococq, Hulise, Maerich, Wirsing, Wexler, Szabo, Tietelbaum, Trifari, Carnap, Loew, Brandus, Mahoney, Braum, Kimmelman, Ubert, Sarlin, Trosky, Mullau and Beubel are the first to assail the eye on turning to a page of advertisements.

In another generation or two these will be good old American names. Meanwhile New York will continue to be our foremost European capital.

SAYS ALL WOMEN ARE LIARS

German Diplomat, Who Got the "Mitten," Declares Fair Sex Deficient Morally.

"All women are liars and are deficient in their sense of moral duty."

This and more is the opinion of Baron Herrmann von Kuhlmann of Bavaria, unmarried and attached to German embassy at Peking, who arrived on the Chiyo Maru recently.

According to fellow passengers, the baron formed his views on the voyage when his attentions to Miss Katherine Enright of Chicago did not meet with hearty response.

"A woman cannot recognize the same moral responsibility as a man," said the baron. "No marriage can remain a happy one for more than a year. By that time a man will lose faith in his wife."

Then, turning to Miss Enright, the baron said:

"We have had a pleasant trip. But to have you for a wife if I could—never! You are too energetic."

Returning to the interview, the baron continued:

"Woman is illogical and untrustworthy. She changes her mind too frequently. Woman has no feeling requiring her to tell the truth. In Germany a man and wife are comrades, but in America—never. Here the women are proud and selfish and the men suffer for it."

Advice About Reading.

Be sure, then, to read no mean books; shun the spawn of the press in the gossip of the hour. Do not read what you shall learn, without asking, in the street and the train. Dr. Johnson said he "always went into stately shops," and good travelers stop at the best hotels; for though they cost more they do not cost much more, and there is the good company and the best information. In like manner the scholar knows that the famous books contain, first and last, the best thoughts and facts. . . . The three practical rules, then, which I have to offer are (1) Never read any book that is not a year old. (2) Never read any but famed books. (3) Never read any but what you like.—Emerson.

Community in News.

At a friend's southern hunting lodge his wife has learned that her "ring-up" on the telephone is accompanied by the click of receivers all along the line. Every one is obviously listening to what she says. On one occasion a telegram was telephoned to the lodge, and the following day, when her husband met a rural neighbor on the road, the latter drew rein to converse.

"Mr. Grey," said he, "I didn't catch the first part o' that telegram we got yesterday."

Mr. Grey accordingly enlightened his ignorance forthwith.—New York World.

Farmer's Suggestion.

A Florida farmer who was raising strawberries for the market sent a shipment to New York and the commission merchant wrote back that the berries were too ripe, consequently poor prices and small return checks, so next time the grower picked them earlier and the results were about the same, as the New York man said they were too green for the market; so the next shipment the man pulled up the plants by the roots, packed them in boxes and said, "You can pick them when just right for your particular market."

Made Dogs and Rats Fight.

For keeping premises in Soar Lane, Leicester, for dog and rat fighting, Walter Manship was at Leicester yesterday fined £5 under the protection of animals act, and for assisting him Ernest Manship and Albert Martin of Leicester, Joseph Ward of Hinckley and James Mason of Birmingham were fined £1 each. It was stated that on Boxing day terrier dogs were placed in a rat pit and a number of dogs were killed. All the competing dogs were badly bitten and in one competition two rats were seen hanging from the bleeding jaws of a dog.—London Mail.

FRANK RIVA CHARLEROI, Pennsylvania,

IN LOVING MEMORY OF FRANK ARRISON

It becomes our sad duty as well as our privilege to perform this last labor of love for him who has fallen asleep, and for whom at this time a community mourns. He whom we knew but to admire, respect and love is gone from our midst. We sorrow not as those having no hope, but in the words of the hymn he loved so well to sing, we know that he is "waking the streets of the city of God;" he has beheld the King in His beauty, and although with breaking hearts for our great loss, we know that our loss is his gain. And while we realize that words are inadequate to tell the story of his beautiful life, we know that its influence shall live in this community and be a blessing to coming generations.

He lived his life among us—childhood, boyhood, young manhood—a short life, a happy life, a life of endeavor, achievement and success, unblemished and unspotted by the world. At the age of 13 years he began the study of telegraphy in connection with his studies, and continued in this work until he graduated with honors from the high school of Charleroi at the age of 17. He was chosen president of the alumni association and during his last illness at the hospital arranged some matters in connection with the association, faithful and conscientious to the last in the discharge of the smallest obligations.

After his graduation he entered the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, and by his diligence and application to business had risen step by step until he became extra agent of the Monongahela division of the company, and was regarded as a faithful, trusted and efficient employee. All along the line "the boys" regarded him with esteem and affection. Modest, unassuming, courteous, and with a sweetness of disposition he possessed that rare faculty of making lasting friendships—friendships so strong and abiding that in these first days of bereavement the manifestations of them have been so marvelous in their extent and touching in their devotion and tenderness that bleeding hearts have been comforted by them.

He possessed a deep religious nature, and when a few short months ago he united with the Presbyterian church, he seemed to rise to the stature of completeness—complete in Him, whom he acknowledged as his daily guide. One of his friends told how on a recent journey with him, each morning he read a chapter from a small Testament given him by his mother, she for whom no sacrifice would have been too great, even to the laying down of his life for her.

Becoming a Mason a number of years ago he had gone through the various chapters. He was a Knight Templar, a Shriner, and had also taken the 32nd degree. He was considered an authority in the traditions and lore of the order, and never lost an opportunity to extend a helping hand to a brother in need, using, in this way, but never abusing the privileges of the order.

Frank has gone, but he has left an enduring monument, an influence for good in this community that, eternally alone can measure. His life, his love and devotion to family and friends, his nobility, his courage, his patience, his honesty, his faithfulness, his purity, his manliness, shall never perish from the earth. We rejoice that we have known him, that we have loved him. To live in hearts we leave behind is not to die, and blessed and glorious thought for those who remain, that Frank is not dead but sleepeth, and while he cannot come back to us we can go to him, and some fair morn we shall meet to part no more.

Beaver Falls has been winning games right along this season among the Independents. Last year the club got away with a fine record.

For Beaver Falls Haworth, a pitcher who is known along the Monongahela valley as a former minor leaguer is scheduled to do the box duty. Beaver Falls, and Ritzer will watch. Eight Who Deserve Slaps.
Eight men who deserve to be slapped on the face: He who despises a man of power; he who enters a house uninvited and unwelcome; he who gives orders in a house not his own; he who takes a seat above his position; he who speaks to one who does not listen to him; he who intrudes on the conversation of others; he who seeks favors from the ungenerous; and he who expects love from his enemies.—From a Persian Saying.

Real Test.
There is something finer than to do right against inclination, and that is to have an inclination to do right. There is something nobler than reluctant obedience, and that is joyful obedience. The rank of virtue is not measured by its disagreeableness, but by its sweetness to the heart that loves it. The real test of character is joy. For what you rejoice in, that you love. And what you love, that you are like.—Henry van Dyke.

Be Careful in Speech.
If in our speech we would need consider how our words will affect those to whom they are spoken—if we would try to hear them with their ears and consider how they accept in their hearts, there would not be much passionate or unadvised speech; certainly there would be few spirits wounded or lives embittered by the words of our lips.—W. G. Horder.

Accentuating Plant Characters.
It has been found that under red light (light through red glass) plants become more robust than in any other. They also become more pronounced in their chief characters—the leafy plant becomes more leafy, all shades of green become more pronounced, the sensitive plant more sensitive and all in every way become highly specialized.

Pigeon Descended Chimney.
When a resident in the London road, Reading, England, came downstairs recently, he found perched on the top bar of the grate in the drawing-room a pigeon which had come down the chimney. It had brought with it a considerable quantity of soot. When the occupier opened the windows the pigeon made its escape.

Food Kept Warm.
A flatiron stand will be found useful on the range to keep the contents of a saucepan warm without danger of burning, says the Indianapolis News. It is also useful when one desires food to simmer; there is then no fear of sticking or burning on a hot stove.

Unfortunate English.
The general impression that the Englishman's life is rather prosy is supported by the statement of a Londoner who visited at Clay Center. He said he never had tasted fried chicken or strawberry shortcake, the two being unknown to the culinary art in his country.—Kansas City Star.

"Bait" Was Good.
"How did you come to buy that worthless mining stock?" "Well, you see, I thought it was all right. The man who sold it to me had mahogany furniture in his office, tall brass candelabras and a swell rug on his floor."—Detroit Free Press.

Adam's Satisfaction.
Adam was surveying the animals he was called upon to name. He smiled with satisfaction as he remarked: "Whatever else may happen, there never will be a shortage in the supply of party emblems."

Ideals the Guiding Star.
Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands. But, like the seafaring man on deserts of water, you choose them as your guides, and following them reach your destiny.—Carl Schurz.

All Have a Duty.
Every man or woman is one of mankind's dear possessions; to his or her just brain, and kind heart and active hands, mankind intrusts some of its hopes for the future.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Changing Hues.
"You are in love with a blonde," remarked the fortune teller, "but after you marry her, beware of a brunette who—" "No danger," remarked the patron; "It's the same woman."—The Ladies' World.

The Average Man.
The average man will hurry to a veterinary when his pet dog gets sick, but he is willing to rely on almost any kind of "dope" when he isn't feeling well himself.

Improved Safety Razor.
The principle of the double-bladed plane has been applied to safety razors, so that the operator shaves with two blades at the same time.

Little Satisfaction.
A mummy gets blamed little satisfaction from winning the endurance prize.—Atchison Globe.

Evil of Insincerity.
Of all the evil spirits abroad at this hour in the world, insincerity is the most dangerous.—Froude.

WOMAN IN TERRIBLE STATE

Finds Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bellevue, Ohio.—"I was in a terrible state before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached until I thought it would break. I had pains all over me, nervous feelings and periodic troubles. I was very weak and run down and was losing hope of ever being well and strong. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I improved rapidly and today am a well woman. I cannot tell you how happy I feel and I cannot say too much for your Compound. Would not be without it in the house if it cost three times the amount."—Mrs. CHAS. CHAPMAN, R. F. D. No. 7, Bellevue, Ohio.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has remedied many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and it may be exactly what you need.

The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of woman—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

MINE OPERATIONS TO START THIS SUMMER

Work of Constructing New Charleroi Tipple Well Under Way

BEING BUILT OF STEEL

Grade Into Heart of Coal Will be Easy—Tipple Will Not Slope at All

With good fortune another two months should see the beginning of actual operations of the Charleroi mine of the Carnegie Coal company. The work of building the tipple has gotten under way and it is expected it will be finished within four weeks. The new mine opening has been driven approximately 450 feet of the 800 feet to go.

All the tipple work will be of steel. It will be built 54 feet above the railroad tracks. Though the tipple will be built for railroad shipping accommodations, arrangements will be made so that river shipments of coal can be made. This will be accomplished simply by raising the present river tipple a number of feet.

The new tipple will contain four tracks two for loads in the center and two for entry cars on the outside. The tipple length will be approximately 400 feet long and will contain about 640 tons of steel. The John Eickley, Jr. company, has the contract for the steel work, the Dravo Construction company, for the concrete foundation and the driving of the opening and another Pittsburg company the contract for the pile driving. Elmer Struble is the man directly in charge of the steel construction and George Claypool is the superintendent generally looking after this particular. George Schielcross is the chief engineer. George W. Wilkes is looking after the grading and filling as an employee of the company. When the mine is opened he will become mine foreman, a place he held with the Charleroi Coal company.

A very easy grade will be provided at the new mine. There will be no slant of the tipple at all as the grade to be inside the mine. From the opening there will be a slope of 2.6 per cent downward for a short distance and then the slope will change to one per cent. The old coal tipple used by the Charleroi mine had a slope of 16 per cent.

One new feature in connection with the operation of the mine is that the motors used will be run out on the tipple. Two 15-ton tandem motors have already been ordered and will arrive in good season. The new opening through which they will have to pass will be 10 feet wide and 7-12 feet high.

The second euchre of the series was held last evening by the L. C. B. A. in P. H. C. hall. There was a nice attendance. Favors were awarded to Mrs. Jas. O'Hern, Mrs. Daniel Shields, Misses P. Conley and John Coyne. Announcement of the next euchre will be made in Monday evening's Mail.

Not Used at Vesta Mine

Electricity for Motive Power for Drillers is Done Away With at No. 5

The mine of the Vesta Coal Company at Fredericktown will when all changes have been made, be operated by compressed air instead of electricity. Already these changes are under way, and even now open lights have been done away with. The miners are using a German electric lamp for their personal use, and which are provided by the company. These lamps are provided with a storage battery, which gives sufficient current to provide a light while the miner is at work. In this way open lights are obviated. As all mines in the upper pools are being operated by shafts, it is necessary to take greater precautions than in drift mines.

RAILROAD MEN WILL BANQUET

Second Annual Meeting of Veterans to be Held Here

OFFICIALS ARE COMING

Arrangements are being made for the second annual banquet of the Monongahela division, Veterans Employees Association of the Pennsylvania Railroad to be held at Turner Hall, Charleroi on Thursday, June 12. Invitations for the event have been issued.

The banquet will bring together between 100 and 150 railroad men who have been in service on the Monongahela division for 21 years or longer. This will include the pensioned employees. Also it will be the means of bringing some of the highest officials of the Pittsburg office here. A. G. Mitchell, superintendent of the Monongahela division will attend, and it is likely that R. L. O'Donnell, general superintendent, of Pittsburg will come.

The first annual banquet of the association was held at the Seventh Avenue hotel at Pittsburg last year. It was so great a success that it was decided to hold a similar event this and succeeding years.

For the affair next week a special train will leave Pittsburg at 4:30 o'clock carrying those from the north end of the division. The train will arrive in Charleroi at about 6 o'clock and the banquet will be at 6:45.

Business Men's Meeting. The Charleroi Business Men's Association will meet at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the Business Men's rooms, to take up business of importance.

BORROWS HORSE NOT HIS OWN; GOOD JOKE

John Milanovitch Used to be a Calvaryman and Just for Fun Makes Away With Dash-ir g Steed--Not So Funny Now

His idea of humor as expressed by getting on a horse that was not his and riding wildly down McKean avenue came near getting John Milanovitch into a lot of trouble Wednesday afternoon. Had it not been that the horse possessed an intelligence all its own and objected to being guided in another direction than home John today might be facing the charge of horse-stealing under serious circumstances. As it is he will probably be let go on a disorderly charge.

The horse was the property of Constable George Stablin. It was standing in front of a harness store on McKean avenue, when John sauntered along. The animal was tethered but had no saddle on its back. According to John's tale there were some boys standing by, and when he stopped to look at the horse, they taunted him by telling him he couldn't ride.

Now John used to be a calvaryman in the old country, it seems, and has a military record that he is rather proud of. To have boys taunt him like that was not for John, so just for the fun of the thing, as he afterward related, he leaped on the horse and pulled away.

Down McKean avenue he wildly rode and on to North Charleroi. At North Charleroi John came to the realization that the horse was no army steed. In other words it showed plainly an inclination to return whence it had come and not only that but absolutely insisted upon coming back.

The result of the whole affair was that John was met at Eleventh street by the police in their auto patrol and he got another free ride. He spent the night under surveillance. Disposition of his case will probably be made sometime today.

EASTERN STAR DANCE POPULAR

Many Attend Private Hop at Eldora--"Charl-Mon" Club Dance Tonight

What it is believed will prove one of the most successful dances of the season was held at Eldora Park Wednesday evening by the Donora chapter Order of the Eastern Star. Couples were present from Monessen, Charleroi, Donora, Monongahela, and numerous other places along the Monongahela valley. Many even came from distant interior points. The dance was the first private dance of the season.

On Thursday night of this week the "Char-Mon" club, composed of Charleroi and Monessen young men will give a dance. This will be their first dance and it is believed it will be largely attended.

OPENS UP NEW MEAT MARKET ON M'KEAN AVENUE

Convenience and sanitation are two things that James Gelder, the well known meat man, kept chiefly in mind when he made preparations for opening his new market at 413 McKean avenue this week. The opening was an event of today and the way in which Mr. Gelder carried out his up-to-date ideas is apparent by a mere glance within the attractive interior. Mr. Gelder has so located his equipment, including the large refrigerators so that everything will be in the handiest place. A new feature will be that he will be able to bring in his meat and other products from the rear of the store.

The interior color scheme, if a meat market can be spoken of as having a color scheme is white. Beautiful marble counters add to the general beauty. Mr. Gelder intends to conduct his meat market on up-to-date principles and will have only the best in meats to be had.

Miss Margaret Laird left this morning for Ford City.

"Citizen" Says There Are Too Many Loose Characters Roaming Valley

To the Editor of the Charleroi Mail: Sir--Only a fortnight or more ago everybody was astounded by the crimes against morality that were committed across the river, and which finally ended in murder. On this particular occasion the state constabulary showed its efficiency in capturing one of the culprits. Since then all people of that character have left there temporarily and located in the immediate vicinity of Charleroi. Among them are many ex-convicts, who are doing a flourishing business in pandering. Hold-ups, which occur outside the borough where the local police have no control, are quite numerous, and the constables of the adjoining townships are not giving these matters any attention.

This is a place for the state constabulary to get busy and make their camping grounds about the creek, where many of these lawless characters rendezvous. So let the citizens take action and request the state constabulary to drive these known things and low down characters from this locality. This is a matter in which all law-abiding citizens should co-operate.

A CITIZEN.

TALKING MOVING PICTURES SHOWN FOR FIRST TIME

For the first time in Charleroi the new talking moving pictures are being shown. This is at the river where the Markell show boat, "Golden Rod" is appearing. Wednesday night a large crowd was on hands for the first boat show. The boat is still remaining here for tonight, before going to Monessen.

A feature Wednesday and a feature today was the band concert that was given near the noon hour on the

TROUBLE LOOKED FOR OVER LABOR MEASURES

Anniversary Of Big Frost

Fifty-Four Years Ago Wednesday Night Crops Were Blackened and Destroyed

Old-timers recall the anniversary of the "big frost," which occurred 54 years ago Wednesday night. On the night of June 4, 1859 occurred the heaviest frost ever known at this season of the year. The temperature dropped so low that people wore overcoats and lighted fires in their houses. On the morning of June 5 every bit of vegetation was killed and blackened by the frost. Everything in the way of crops that was raised that year was from replanting after June 5.

Coal Shipments Down Monongahela Heavy During May

ONE LOCK CLOSED DOWN

In spite of the fact that one of the locks at Lock No. 4 was closed during the month of May the coal trade through that point was scarcely lessened. Together with the coal other shipment kept up well.

The total amount of coal passing through the lock was 15,923,000 bushels. This was about two millions less than for the month of April this year and the month of May last year, which were exceptionally good months.

The sand and gravel trade remained comparatively strong. Of sand there was locked 18,000 bushels and of gravel 48,000 bushels.

Lockages down stream numbered 567 and up stream 555. Down stream traffic consisted of 249 steamers and 1,297 boats barges and flats. Up stream the traffic was 248 steamers and 1,327 boats, barges and flats.

Senate and House Expected to Disagree on Provisions

AMENDMENTS INSERTED

Controversy Most Probable Result--Next Few Weeks of Session to be Strenuous

Harrisburg, June 5--With the action of the senate on the labor and election bills is likely to be precipitated the most bitter fight of the session. By changing the character of these bills entirely by amendment, the senate and the house are not likely to agree, and a long and bitter deadlock is indicated, with rumors already afloat that an extra session may be called by the governor in an effort to finally pass some of the measures that he advocates. Among these is the workmen's compensation law, which has been so amended in the senate as to make it practically inoperative.

Another of the bills that has been changed by amendments in the senate that will provoke a bitter fight is the child labor bill. As passed by the house this bill provided for eight hours a day for children under 16 years with a minimum of 48 hours a week, and did not permit boys of that age to work nights. It has been amended to permit children to work 10 hours a day with a minimum of 54 hours a week, and to also permit boys in the glass working trades to work nights. It is doubtful if the bill will get through the house unless some radical compromises are made.

So much bitterness is manifested on the part of organized labor over the emasculation of the workmen's compensation bill, which makes the provisions obsolete, that threats of a state wide strike are freely made if Governor Tener's measure, as presented, is not passed. President Maurer of the State Federation of Labor is canvassing the executive boards of the United Mine Workers of the anthracite and bituminous coal fields, and if these boards decide to strike if the act is not passed as introduced, a general strike will be called, he stated.

Regarding the charges asking for the impeachment of Judge Umbel of Fayette county, the committee named Speaker Harter met and organized and will meet at Uniontown June 12 to investigate the charges. This proceeding is expected to be long drawn out and to be continued into the next session of the legislature.

FUNERAL OF ROBERT GATES TO BE HELD FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The funeral of Robert Gates aged 20 the Dunlevy young man who was killed by a fall of slate at the Tremont mine Wednesday morning will be held from the Dunlevy United Brethren church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The body will be taken to Monongahela for interment in the Monongahela cemetery.

Competing Traffic

Kansas City, one of the progressive cities of the west, is solving the

transportation problem by the formation of steamboat line between

that city and St. Louis. The business people were having trouble with

the railroad companies concerning

freight rates and service, and they

promoted and are developing the river

traffic line. By this means they expect to save twenty per cent in traffic rates on much of the merchandise

that is shipped from the wholesalers

of St. Louis to Kansas City.

This is the opportunity that has

long been open to the merchants of

the Monongahela valley—competing

river traffic. A big saving in rates

on much of the merchandise shipped

to Charleroi from Pittsburg could be effected if the merchants would develop the river traffic that the government has spent millions of dollars

to install. As it is the big interests

are reaping all the benefit of the

cheap river transportation, and they

are not using this advantage for the people who pay for cheapening their

products. Why should the government continue to spend millions of dollars in rebuilding the locks along

the river when all the benefit they

confer is on the coal companies who

still base their selling prices on rail-

road shipping rates? Some progressive action among the merchants

would result in lower freight rates

from Pittsburg to all of the river

points.

PROUD OF HIS SELF-CONTROL

Mrs. Brown Could Agree With Her

Liege Lord, Too, That It Was

Something Uncommon.

Mr. Brown was excitable by nature,

but he often prided himself audibly

upon his self-control. One night while

the family were gathered at the tea

table the chimney began to roar; the

furnace draft had been opened and forgotten. Straightway a panic ensued.

"Don't lose your heads—keep cool!"

cried Mr. Brown. "It's nothing serious."

He dashed up the stairs, discovered

that the metal cap over the only un-

used stovepipe hole was already red

hot, and dashed down again faster

than he went up.

"Keep cool!" he gasped, as he

passed through the room where the family had gathered in nervous apprehension. "I'll be back in a minute."

He was back in less than that time,

having observed that the flames were

spouting several feet high from the

chimney, and that a shower of sparks

"Where's the step-ladder?" he panicked.

He was gone before anyone could

answer the question, and presently

was heard bellowing from the roof of

chimney.

"I've got one end of the hose!" he

called. "Some one attach the other

end and turn on the water—quick!"

"Two long minutes passed.

"Why doesn't some one do as I ordered?" he thundered. "Do you want

the place to burn up?"

"We can't, Henry!" called Mrs.

Brown, tremblingly. "You haven't got

shed. And anyway, the roof is covered

Made His Blessing Retrospective. The father of a family who had been striving to bring up his children in the way they should go was very much annoyed at his son's uncouth habit of helping himself to a few bites before grace had been said. The stereotyped form called for: "A blessing on what we are about to eat," but one occasion being particularly exasperating, he astounded the young man by adding to his petition, "and on that which has already been eaten."

Fully Explained.

Every now and again some individual arises to tell us Why We Are, and What We Are, and How We Are, and What We Know, and What We Would Be if We Weren't, and What, Precisely, Areness Is, also Woreness, and Why We Aren't What We Mightn't Have Been if We Weren't, and other simple and entrancing facts. Such an individual is called a philosopher. —Bulletin, Sidney.

Will Destroy Moths.

It is said that the following will destroy moths, eggs and larvae in a closet: Place a brick on the floor of the closet and on this a tin or iron pan. Heat a brick until it becomes very hot and then put it in the pan. Pour hot, strong vinegar on this brick, then close the door and keep it closed for 24 hours. The steam from the vinegar will kill any live thing that may be in the closet.

Little Doubt About It.

Married a month, a young man told the magistrate that his wife had done the following things: Torn up the marriage-certificate, pawned the ring, torn up her wedding-dress, assaulted him. She followed him to court, he added, but he managed to dodge her. The Clerk: "You took her for better or worse, and you seem to have got the worse."

Specialists Recommend Yawning.

In the opinion of learned specialists no one can be healthy unless he or she does a certain amount of yawning. When you yawn you expel from the lungs a lot of superfluous air; the breathing muscles of both the chest and the throat are strengthened by yawning.

His Fear.

"Weren't you afraid to go downstairs in the dark last night?" asked a woman of her little son, recently. "Yes, I was a little afraid," answered the boy. "But what were you afraid of?" asked the mother. "I'm," said the boy, "I was afraid there wouldn't be any doughnuts."

And So It Goes In Life.

"A girl," remarks Mack Cretcher, "must have dolls and ribbons and lots of fancy things to play with. A boy can have a pretty good time with nothing but a toad, a grasshopper and a few angle worms."

Perhaps a Tragic Comedy.

A writer once said that the world is a comedy to those who think, a tragedy to those who feel. He doesn't say what it is to the fellow who tries to take a wide garbage can through a narrow alley-way.—Satire.

SAYS ALL WOMEN ARE LIARS

German Diplomat, Who Got the "Mistaken," Declares Fair Sex Deficient Morally.

"All women are liars and are deficient in their sense of moral duty." This and more is the opinion of Baron Herrmann von Kuhlmann of Bavaria, unmarried and attached to German embassy at Peking, who arrived on the Chiyo Maru recently.

According to fellow passengers, the baron formed his views on the voyage when his attentions to Miss Katherine Enright of Chicago did not meet with hearty response.

"A woman cannot recognize the same moral responsibility as a man," said the baron. "No marriage can remain a happy one for more than a year. By that time a man will lose faith in his wife."

Then, turning to Miss Enright, the baron said:

"We have had a pleasant trip. But to have you for a wife if I could—never! You are too energetic."

Returning to the interview, the baron continued:

"Woman is illogical and untrustworthy. She changes her mind too frequently. Woman has no feeling requiring her to tell the truth. In Germany a man and wife are comrades, but in America—never. Here the women are proud and selfish and the men suffer for it."

Advice About Reading.

Be sure, then, to read no, mean books; shun the spawn of the press in the gossip of the hour. Do not read what you shall learn, without asking, in the street and the train. Dr. Johnson said he "always went into stately shops," and good travelers stop at the best hotels; for though they cost more they do not cost much more, and there is the good company and the best information. In like manner the scholar knows that the famous books contain, first and last, the best thoughts and facts. . . . The three practical rules, then, which I have to offer are (1) Never read any book that is not a year old. (2) Never read any but famed books. (3) Never read any but what you like.—Emerson.

Community in News.

At a friend's southern hunting lodge his wife has learned that her "ring-up" on the telephone is accompanied by the click of receivers all along the line. Every one is obviously listening to what she says. On one occasion a telegram was telephoned to the lodge, and the following day, when her husband met a rural neighbor on the road, the latter drew him to converse.

"Mr. Grey," said he, "I didn't catch the first part o' that telegram we got yest'day."

Mr. Grey accordingly enlightened his ignorance forthwith.—New York World.

Farmer's Suggestion.

A Florida farmer who was raising strawberries for the market sent a shipment to New York and the commission merchant wrote back that the berries were too ripe, consequently poor prices and small return checks, so next time the grower picked them earlier and the results were about the same, as the New York man said they were too green for the market; so the next shipment the man pulled up the plants by the roots, packed them in boxes and said, "You can pick them when just right for your particular market."

Made Dogs and Rats Fight.

For keeping premises in Soar Lane, Leicester, for dog and rat fighting, Walter Manship was at Leicester yesterday fined £5 under the protection of animals act, and for assisting him Ernest Manship and Albert Martin of Leicester, Joseph Ward of Hinckley and James Mason of Birmingham were fined £1 each. It was stated that on during day earlier dogs were placed in a rat pit and a number of rats were killed. All the competing dogs were then taken out and the dogs were then taken out and the dogs were then taken out.

FRANK RIVA CHARLEROI, Pennsylvania.

It becomes our sad duty as well as our privilege to perform this last labor of love for him who has fallen asleep, and for whom at this time a community mourns. He whom we knew but to admire, respect and love is gone from our midst. We sorrow not as those having no hope, but in the words of the hymn he loved so well to sing, we know that he is "waking the streets of the city of God;" he has beheld the King in His beauty, and although with breaking hearts for our great loss, we know that our loss is his gain. And while we realize that words are inadequate to tell the story of his beautiful life, we know that its influence shall live in this community and be a blessing to coming generations.

He lived his life among us—childhood, boyhood, young manhood—a short life, a happy life, a life of endeavor, achievement and success, unblemished and unspotted by the world. At the age of 13 years he began the study of telegraphy in connection with his studies, and continued in this work until he graduated with honors from the high school of Charleroi at the age of 17. He was chosen president of the alumni association and during his last illness at the hospital arranged some matters in connection with the association, faithful and conscientious to the last in the discharge of the smallest obligations.

After his graduation he entered the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, and by his diligence and application to business had arisen step by step until he became extra agent of the Monongahela division of the company, and was regarded as a faithful, trusted and efficient employee. All along the line "the boys" regarded him with esteem and affection. Modest, unassuming, courteous, and with a sweetness of disposition he possessed that rare faculty of making lasting friendships—friendships so strong and abiding that in these first days of bereavement the manifestations of them have been so marvelous in their extent and touching in their devotion and tenderness that bleeding hearts have been comforted by them.

He possessed a deep religious nature, and when a few short months ago he united with the Presbyterian church, he seemed to rise to the stature of completeness—complete in Him, whom he acknowledged as his daily guide. One of his friends told how on a recent journey with him, each morning he read a chapter from a small Testament given him by his mother, she for whom no sacrifice would have been too great, even to the laying down of his life for her.

Becoming a blason a number of years ago he had gone through the various chapters. He was a Knight Templar, a Shriner, and had also taken the 82nd degree. He was considered an authority in the traditions and lore of the order, and never lost an opportunity to extend a helping hand to a brother in need, using, in this way, but never abusing the privileges of the order.

alone can measure. His life, his love and devotion to family and friends, his nobility, his courage, his patience, his honesty, his faithfulness, his purity, his manliness, shall never perish from the earth. We rejoice that we have known him, that we have loved him. To live in hearts we leave behind is not to die and blessed and glorious thought for those who remain, that Frank is not dead but sleepeth, and while he cannot come back to us we can go to him, and some fair morn we shall meet to part no more.

A FRIEND.

BEAVER FALLS HERE SATURDAY

One of the best teams on the independent circuit in Western Pennsylvania will be seen in action Saturday afternoon at Charleroi, when the Beaver Falls Independents play here. Beaver Falls has been winning games right along this season among the Independents. Last year the club got away with a fine record.

For Beaver Falls Haworth, a pitcher who is known along the Monongahela valley as a former minor leaguer is scheduled to do the box duty for Beaver Falls, and Ritzer will catch. Manager Mathers announced that but one pitcher lineup will be the same as usual, with Ryan or Price doing the twirling and Courtley the catching. The game is to start promptly at 3:30.

Eight Who Deserve Blame.
Eight men who deserve to be blamed on the fatal fire which destroyed a man of power; he who enters a house uninvited and unwelcomed; he who gives orders in a house not his own; he who takes a seat above his position; he who speaks to one who does not listen to him; he who intrudes on the conversation of others; he who seeks favors from the ungenerous; and he who expects love from his enemies.—From a Persian Saying.

Real Test.
There is something finer than to do right against inclination, and that is to have an inclination to do right. There is something nobler than reluctant obedience, and that is joyful obedience. The rank of virtue is not measured by its disagreeableness, but by its sweetness to the heart that loves it. The real test of character is joy. For what you rejoice in, that you love. And what you love, that you are like.—Henry van Dyke.

Be Careful in Speech.
If in our speech we would need consider how our words will affect those to whom they are spoken—if we would try to hear them with their ears and consider how they accept in their hearts, there would not be much passionate or unadvised speech; certainly there would be few spirits wounded or lives embittered by the words of our lips.—W. G. Horder.

Accentuating Plant Characters.
It has been found that under red light (light through red glass) plants become more robust than in any other. They also become more pronounced in their chief characters—the leafy plant becomes more leafy, all shades of green become more pronounced, the sensitive plant more sensitive and all in every way become highly specialized.

Pigeon Descended Chimney.
When a resident in the London road, Reading, England, came downstairs recently, he found perched on the top bar of the grate in the drawing-room a pigeon which had come down the chimney. It had brought with it a considerable quantity of soot. When the occupier opened the windows the pigeon made its escape.

Food Kept Warm.
A nation stand will be found useful on the range to keep the contents of a saucepan warm without danger of burning, says the Indianapolis News. It is also useful when one desires food to simmer; there is then no fear of sticking or burning on a hot stove.

Unfortunate English.
The general impression that the Englishman's life is rather prosy is supported by the statement of a Londoner who visited at Clay Center. He said he never had tasted fried chicken or strawberry shortcake, the two being unknown to the culinary art in his country.—Kansas City Star.

"Bait" Was Good.
"How did you come to buy that worthless mining stock?" "Well, you see, I thought it was all right. The man who sold it to me had mahogany furniture in his office, tall brass candlesticks and a swell rug on his floor."—Detroit Free Press.

Adam's Satisfaction.
Adam was surveying the animals he was called upon to name. He smiled with satisfaction as he remarked: "Whatever else may happen, there never will be a shortage in the supply of party emblems."

Ideals the Guiding Star.
Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands. But, like the seafaring man on deserts of water, you choose them as your guides, and following them reach your destiny.—Carl Schurz.

All Have a Duty.
Every man or woman is one of mankind's dear possessions; to his or her just brain, and kind heart and active hands, mankind intrusts some of its hopes for the future.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Changing Mues.
"You are in love with a blonde," remarked the fortune teller, "but after you marry her, beware of a brunette who—" "No danger," remarked the patron; "it's the same woman."—The Ladies' World.

The Average Man.
The average man will hurry to a veterinary when his pet dog gets sick, but he is willing to rely on almost any kind of "dope" when he isn't feeling well himself.

Improved Safety Razor.
The principle of the double-bladed plane has been applied to safety razors, so that the operator shaves with two blades at the same time.

Little Satisfaction.
A mummy gets blamed little satisfaction from winning the endurance prize.—Athletic Globe.

Evil of Inefficiency.
Of all the evil habits abroad at this time in the world, inefficiency is the most dangerous.
